Enquiry Question of the week

Q: What is the water cycle?

A: The water cycle is like a big adventure for water! First, the sun makes water from rivers, lakes, and oceans go up into the sky. That's called evaporation. Then, the water gathers in the sky and turns into clouds, which is called condensation. After that, the clouds get heavy and rain falls down, filling up rivers and lakes again.

They want to decorate the church with stars in all different shapes and sizes for the event and have asked if we have any capacity to make some stars for them. Stars can be any style, but need a hanging loop on them. See Website for more information:
