Enquiry Question of the week

Q: Is deforestation always a bad thing?

A: We rely on many rainforest products. Other aspects such as agriculture, unsustainable forest management, mining, infrastructure projects and increased fire incidence and intensity to produce these resources damage the rainforest irreparably. Less well-off families rely on these industries to support their families and pay for medical care, education and housing.

Reading: Vocabulary Skills (Pig Heart Boy)

Writing: Non-Chronological Reports - Rainforest Animals

Math: Long Division and mental Calculations

Science: What evidence is there for human evolution?

Geography: Is deforestation good or bad?

RE: How can drama express faith?
